

2017 NPA EDUCATION CONFERENCE

JULY 7-8, 2017

Hosted by Cynthia Funnye-Doby
EdD, MAEd, B.S., MLS(ASCP), CPT (NPA)
Faculty/Program Director-Phlebotomy
Malcolm X College and School of Health Sciences
1900 W Jackson Blvd

The Phlebotomist is actively involved in every sphere of the health care industry. The National Phlebotomy Association was established as a professional means to assure the general public that those who work in this industry are well-educated and skilled to professionally perform the duties as a phlebotomist.

Come join NPA for an exciting two-day Education Conference on July 7-8, 2017 at Malcolm X College and School of Health Sciences . Topics covered will be: Mental Health First Aid, Domestic Violence, Special Touch Technique, Infection Control, HIV and Aids, Autism, Osha Regulations. Customer Service and Introduction to Phlebotomy Instructor Training Course.

Day 1 8am-4pm

Day 2 9am-3pm

For further details, go to NPA's website at www.nationalphlebotomy.org

TOPICS

Mental Health First Aid

Amy Gray- MD MEd Associate Dean of Health Services
Malcolm X College
Chicago, IL

Domestic Violence

Abra Johnson-Assistant Professor/Sociology
Malcolm X College
Chicago, IL

Special Touch

Edward Starling PH.D-Certified Phlebotomy Instructor
Chicago, IL

Infection Control

Nicholas Moore, MS,MLS (ASCP)
Assistant Director -Division of Clinical Microbiology
Rush University Medical Center
Chicago, IL

HIV and Aids

Alexandra Arjona-Founder/CEO
S.M.I.L.E for Change
Chicago, IL

Autism

Dr. Abila Tazunu M.D-Medical Director
Special Needs Physician Support Program
The One World Center for Autism Inc.
Hyattsville, MD

Osha Regulations

Monika Bibbs, MHA, BS, H(ASCP)
Chicago, IL

Customer Service

Patrina Curry– Lead Phlebotomist
Presence St. Joseph
Chicago, IL

Introduction to Phlebotomy Instructor Training Course

Peach Payne PH.D
Curriculum and Instruction Specialist
Baltimore, MD